

Atlas eFX-Team FS will not attend Silverstone Race

Montenegro, September 7, 2010

After a serious accident at the Hungaroring, the damaged Atlas eFX-Team FS-Saleen had to be rebuilt in many areas of the bodywork. As the team was able to foresee in advance that the time to race in Silverstone (GB) would probably not be sufficient to be able to repair the damage by the impact into the tire wall, it decided to build the T-Car according to the current homologation for GT1 cars. Only the engine electronics (Magneti Marelli) could not be brought up to date on time. Subject to a survey of the participating LeMans-Series-Teams to receive an exemption, organizers ACO gave his approval. One Team opposed the participation of the Atlas eFX-Team FS. "We are very disappointed not to be at Silverstone, especially since the championship is already decided in our class anyway," said a spokesman of the team.
